Fire in the Maritimes

Nova Scotia keeps popping up on the inside of me...

Right now I feel the fire of God, the yearning, longing heart of God for Nova Scotia. For those from Nova Scotia- the fire of God is going to hit your heart and you're going to burn, you're going to burn with the presence of God.

While some people call it a forgotten land, it's not forgotten by God.

And I say that there is a mantle [of prophetic intercession] that is coming upon Nova Scotia in the name of Jesus. And there shall be like barns that shall be filled with the light and the fire of God, but they are going to be like homes.

Homes, new fresh home meetings. Home meetings where the fire of God falls in the name of Jesus. It'll be almost like a new house church type movement. Home to home, home to home. Connection to connection. It's not obviously going to be just in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick comes to me, and Newfoundland, that whole area. All through the Maritime provinces.
