The Procession has Begun

And the Lord would say to you, "I'm ready to make my church whole and break the fragmentation of the prophetic anointing and the prophetic call to My people in this nation. I say I'm going to cause fragmentation to let go of My body in this nation. And I am sending you forth in wholeness as one who will go forth willing to address the structures that have been built up before you.

The Lord says do not be afraid, for I am sending you forth in a different way than you have gone forth before - I am sending you forth as those who are willing to worship with a sound that has not been heard in this land before. And if you will go forth and if you will stand and worship says the Lord and sacrifice to Me in a new way in these next several months, I will begin to cause that which has been built up against the purposes I have for this land to begin to fall.

I say to you, you will not be plundered for I will come with grace to surround you and to overtake you and you will begin to move forward in a way and you will be the one who plunders the enemy's camp. If you will gather and worship me I will release strategies and secrets to you of how the enemy is plundering you and you will take back the enemy's captives of this land. I say to you, do not walk into defeat another day - I am releasing you in victory, go forth for I long to give this land into the hands of my people who are carrying My presence. Rise up and be with Me in this season and you will hear the sound of worship, all the way from west to east and from east back to west. And I will settle in every province of this land the anointing of My ark, upon this land and it will be heard that the Lord has come to visit Canada.

Chuck then shared about a prayer mantle he had been given that had been used for some 40 years. However, during a meeting this prayer mantle was stolen. When he asked the Lord if he should go after the person that took it, God said "no" and that He was finished with that mantle. The Lord then told him " I will sovereignly at My time, give you the next mantle for my people to rise up for an impartation, for them to rise up to pray in a way they have never prayed before. Crying day and night - watching me come down into visitation, watching me change their family, watching me heal their children, watching me doing miracles not just for miracles sake but to defy the religious structure."

He took out a Hebrew prayer shawl (tallit) and explained that someone had given this mantle to him just before he came to Canada on this trip. It was a double tallit and had on it two symbols - one representing redemption, the other the prophetic anointing. He then prophesied:

And the Lord says to you He will order your steps one by one to impart this mantle for those where they are hanging in the balance over their redemptive purpose as well as where He is ready to release the prophetic unction of God in such a way that everything that has been held captive will be set free to move in a whole new dimension. I want to say to you, Canada God has brought us here to give you a new mantle to change your atmosphere, to break off of you old thought processes, to liberate your prayer life to where you are praying and expecting the suddenlies. Canada this is your time.

I feel like God has instructed me today, as we release this new canopy over this nation, I am to leave it here until you complete your journey in July.

God says I am ready to change the atmosphere of this nation. The Spirit of God says I'm starting a procession that is going to move across this land. My presence is going to move. I will precede it with signs; I will follow it with wonders. It is time of the change to come into the people of this nation.

And the Lord says, I will move from here and I will begin to shift China in a way China has not been shifted. I say, I will move back into France and cause France to submit their knee. I say to you, it is My time, the procession has begun across Canada!

As we remove this new mantle, it doesn't matter what else is going on... mantle means authority, you have the ultimate authority in this land, you have the ultimate voice in this land, you will unlock the redemption of this land, you will unlock the sound of this land, it's you who is carrying the presence of God to penetrate this land from west to east and back to west again, creating a whirlwind of God's presence in this land. And as we release this I want you to decree that everything in your family that is not in line is beginning to line up, everything in your house that's not in line everything in your church that is not in line. Speak to your city the ark is beginning to move. And I speak to religious spirits and I say "back up and let go". There is a pool in Canada that is about to increase into its fullness. There is vision coming in new and fresh to God's people. There is identity that is coming in - God says "I'm shifting the whole thing NOW!"
